March 27th, 2024

INVITATION

Dear President Lu Jin Ping,

China Concrete & Cement-based Products Association (abbreviated to CCPA) was founded in 1986, it is a national industrial association in China. Up to now, there are over 20,000 member companies of CCPA. Member units for the industry's important ready-mixed concrete, all kinds of cement products production enterprises, equipment enterprises, scientific research institutes, provincial and municipal concrete and cement products industry associations, etc. In terms of output value, the industry representation of the association is nearly 50%. The association has 35 branches, which basically cover the research and development, design, manufacturing, engineering construction and equipment of concrete and cement products and their upstream and downstream materials.

CCPA will hold the “CCPA Annual Convention” and the “2024 China Concrete Exhibition” concurrently from May 31st to June 2nd, 2024 in Nanjing of Jiangsu Province. The annual industry conference and exhibition is the largest one of this industry, which has the longest industry chain, and it is also the most complete and authoritative platform for information exchange and display of innovative achievements.

In order further to promote the cooperation between China and ASEAN in the field of low-carbon development and intelligent manufacturing in the concrete and cement-based products industry, we sincerely invite American Concrete Institute (Singapore Chapter) to lead a delegation to China to understand better of the concrete market, visit
